

“Southern AZ NECA welcomes their newest member”

Nearly 40 YEARS OF QUALITY SERVICE IN ARIZONA

Sabino Electric is a privately held corporation within the State of Arizona since 1981 with two office locations in Arizona. Sabino’s corporate office is in Tucson with a satellite office in Tempe. Sabino Electric joined the TEGG Service Network in 1999, which is a business system that provides electrical asset management and it has complimented their already established commercial electrical installation and maintenance foundation.

Sabino Electric’s mission has always been to strive to be the best electrical service provider through experience, market competitiveness, client responsiveness and a culture of safety. These characteristics that translate to Trust and Excellence have made Sabino Electric a preferred electrical service provider in Arizona for close to 40 years.

In 2019, Sabino Electric received the prestigious “TEGG Contractor of the Year Award,” which is the ABM Franchising Group's Highest Honor. This award is given to the contractor who displays the most outstanding organizational performance in the categories of activity growth, sales performance, gross and operating profit, maintenance-based growth and implementation of the TEGG system. There are currently more than 80 TEGG franchises globally, with one receiving this award annually.

“The success and longevity of Sabino Electric can be directly attributed to the TEGG Service Model. Since joining the network in 1999, Sabino Electric has metamorphosized from an Electrical Contractor to an Electrical Service Provider,” said Sabino Electric’s Principal, Louise Jones-Magee. “Over the past couple of years, myself and our General Manager, Bobby Magee, have fine-tuned the strings. We are innovative and we empower our personnel to be a part of the solution. Our investment in education and technology provides the tools, ability, and agility to rapidly change based on market conditions.”

With close to 40 years of experience in electrical service and preventive maintenance, Sabino Electric remains committed to safety, quality and integrity, which has led to success and continued growth through business referrals and satisfied clients.

“With every visit I make to their location, I’m constantly impressed with the way that they remain focused on continuing to build the TEGG business, and the ways in which they are invested in the personal wellbeing and professional development of their staff,” said ABM Franchising Group Area Vice President,

Todd Greenlee. “It’s easy to see that they view their team members not just as employees, but as family. I believe that the focus and dedication to the individuals is the true foundation to their success in the business.”

Sabino Electric and their employees are very involved in their community with various individuals sitting on local Non-Profit Boards and Community Organizations, such as The 162nd Air Guardian, Air Education Training Command, Catalina Rotary Club, Tucson Metropolitan YMCA, and Pima Community College Construction Review Board, to name a few.

In addition, Sabino Electric is always looking for ways to give back to their community and pay it forward. As an example, the St. Peter & Paul’s Catholic School had an issue with the main breaker, which would shut down the entire HVAC system, along with the Fire Sprinkler system. Sabino Electric was contacted by another electrical contractor who was unable to determine the cause. When contacted, Sabino Electric suited up in their PPE, removed the interior protective covers to assess the distribution panel determining the shunt trip was active and located the signal causing nuisance tripping. The issue was resolved quickly at no cost to St Peter & Paul’s Catholic School.

Lighting was converted from high pressure sodium to LED for the Town of Mammoth’s community center.

Fixtures were replaced at several of the Community Food Bank of Southern Arizona locations, which included the installation of conduit and wiring for various dedicated circuits at the CFB of S. AZ facilities.

Southern Arizona NECA is proud to welcome Sabino Electric as our newest 2020 NECA Member!!!
